

Baomahun Evangelism

Joseph (left) and Alfred (at right with glasses) are my most zealous evangelism companions. Both are growing in their understanding of personal work and are eager to put into practice what they learn in the classroom. Both regularly travel with me to other villages and are learning how to effectively use the illustrations to win their own.

Mary Jo is a Muslim woman who requested that we visit with her to explain the Gospel message. These photos are from our second visit with her and she has invited us to return. The illustrations are helping her to understand that "the way of the cross leads home" not the way of religion, prayers, and almsgiving.

Usually our conversations begin with one or two people but then the crowd grows! The illustrations help hold their attention longer and they hear more of the Gospel message while also seeing it. We always attract a number of curious children and they too hear "thus saith the LORD".
